

As an amateur radio operator I disagree with the commissions NPRM on access BAL in particular paragraph dealing with Homeland security. This is simply absurd when potential terrorists could simply 'plug' into any ac outlet thereby increasing their communication capabilities. I believe the FCC should re-examine it's position.